1st ANNOUNCEMENT

Welcome to Rome!

Dear Delegates and Guests,
You are cordially invited to attend the First International Pediatric Wound Care Symposium in Rome, Italy, Universal and Eternal capital.

The event has the mission to bring to our capital city delegates involved in pediatric wound care from all over the world.

The topics to be discussed during the event will be ulcers, burns, surgical dehiscences, infected wounds, bullous epidermolysis, vasculitic wounds and non healing wounds, traumatic wounds, patients affected by cromosomal diseases, patients with disabilities and congenital wounds, tissue repair and dermal replacement, complex cutaneous-vascular lesions, treatment of microangiopathic wounds and of bleeding angiomas, any issues concerning devices, tracheostomies, digestive and urologic ostomies, skin breakdown, the assessment of pediatric risks and the assistance planet of intensive care and resuscitation, psychological rehabilitation, pediatric pain, use of staminal cells and issues connected to spinal lesions, advanced wound care dressings for pediatric use and protocols of negative pressure, hyperbaric therapy in pediatric complex wounds.

Because we all are parents, because the child wellness is our mission, because of the social and scientific value of the main topics and the importance of this event in an international context, we have the privilege to organize this event under the patronage of the most important

Associations involved in the Wound Care's Planet, in order to grant a moral, social and scientific prestige to the event and to motivate all the Speakers and Participants to give their best for the Symposium.

Moreover, I wish to remind you the ethical and assistential commitment that Ospedale Bambino Gesù has in the pediatric field worldwide. This Pediatric Hospital appears as a Recovery and Cure Institute with a Scientific Interest, house of University Specializations, accredited by the Joint Commission International, and of the Pope Hospital.

I wish to thank everybody who contributes for the success of this symposium, especially the industry representatives for their educational support.

The local organizing committee promises a scientific event organized with emotional, accurate, scientific and fashionable Italian style as well as warm latin and mediterranean hospitality. I wish to all participants an intriguing and brand new Symposium focusing on children and neonates, with the aim of an efficace exchange of opinions, intuitions and feelings.
